Last week's meeting...

Last Tuesday's meeting wasn't a meeting..it was a party. And what a party it was! Our hosts, Wayne and Sandy, really know how to do parties.

The only business was a welcome by President Murray, the presentation of a gift basket to Wayne and Sandy, and a couple of jokes from Bill.

We thought we had good news for your bulletin editor, that our club now has a photographer! Unfortunately, he learned, to his dismay, that it was Murray himself, so I guess the bulletin guy will continue to take the pics for The Lakeshore.

Bill told us two jokes...

General Motors, feeling it was time for a shake-up, hired a new Chief Executive Officer.

The new boss was determined to rid the company of all slackers. On a tour of the facilities, he noticed a guy leaning on a wall. The room was full of workers and he wanted to let them know that he meant business.

He walked up to the guy leaning against the wall and asked, "How much money do you make a week?"

A little surprised, the young man looked at him and replied, "I make $400 a week. Why?"

The CEO then peeled off 16 $100 bills and screamed, "Here's four weeks' pay, now GET OUT and don't come back!"

Feeling pretty good about himself, the CEO looked around the room and asked, "Does anyone want to tell me what that bloody slacker did here?"

From across the room came a voice: "That was the pizza delivery guy from Domino's."

Bill's second joke went like this...

A young man saw an elderly couple sitting down to lunch at McDonald's. He noticed that they had ordered only one meal and an extra cup.

As he watched, the gentleman carefully divided the hamburger in half, then counted out the fries, one for him, one for her, until each had half of them. Then he poured half of the soft drink into the extra cup and set that in front of his wife. The old man then began to eat, and his wife sat watching, with her hands folded in her lap.

The young man decided to ask if they would allow him to purchase another meal for them so that they didn't have to split theirs.

The old gentleman said, "Oh no. We've been married 50 years, and everything has always been, and will always be, shared 50/50."

The young man then asked the wife if she was going to eat. "As soon as he's finished," she replied. "It's his turn with the teeth."
